May 2007

From the Co-ordinator

I hope that you have all had the chance to see our current three exhibitions, which close on 13 May. Well worth the visit, and quite a few pieces sold, which is always good for the artists involved.

The next opening, on May 18 of 'Indigenuity' will feature a traditional Kurna welcome with a didgeridoo performance by Stephen Goldsmith. We will also have indigenous bush tucker foods by Lilly Pilly catering, so try to get along to this one.

The gallery will be open as usual from 6-8pm, with official opening at about 7pm. Beverages will be provided by Patrilli Wines, who very generously support our Gallery M events. Don't forget to support Patrilli's - their cellar door sales at Clacton Road, Dover Gardens are open Monday to Saturday.

We continue to have new members joining up - 38 have joined since January, which is quite amazing. See the information overleaf regarding the next member exhibition 'Footloose'.

If you would like to receive your news via email, send an email to mail@gallerym.net.au. You can also download forms, and newsletters, and the Gallery M news is in colour on the web page.

See you all soon at Gallery M..... Julie

PIC OF THE MONTH

(above) Staff member Jeremy Paddick trying out the newly purchased volunteer equipment - we now have a microwave, and mini toaster-oven to enable our volunteers (and staff) to heat up their meals etc.

And... yes, we have put the new paper folding machine to the test - what a great asset it will be.

FOOTLOOSE

There are still some spaces left in this exhibition, so the deadline for entries has been extended until the quota is filled - get your entry form in as soon as possible, and don't forget that all work must conform to the one foot square criteria.

We are planning to produce a promotional calendar for Gallery M for 2008, and work from this exhibition will be selected to illustrate the calendar. The calendar will be available for sale in the gallery shop, and will raise funds for the Red House Group.

So - don't miss this great opportunity to have your work featured in print.

Cheques submitted with entry forms must be made out to Red House Group Inc.

If you need to purchase some good quality cheap canvases, go to 'Art to Art' 69 Glen Osmond Road, Eastwood, ph. 8271 8444; or any discount shop should have canvases in that size.
